

6TH ANNUAL STATE OF BIODIVERSITY
SYMPOSIUM

April 12, 2023, 1-8 PM

Conservation professionals and biodiversity lovers, unite!

Convening diverse voices around regional conservation to understand current opportunities and threats, and share knowledge about biodiversity in our region.

YOUR TICKET INCLUDES:

- Four talks and a panel discussion from regional conservation practitioners
- Networking reception
- Keynote presentation and Nat Talk by Dr. Jennifer Norris about the state's 30x30 initiative.

Tickets and information at sdnat.org/stateofbiodiversity.

Just want to attend the keynote presentation? Tickets may be purchased separately at sdnat.org/nattalks.

Dr. Jennifer Norris is the Deputy Secretary for Biodiversity and Habitat at the California Natural Resources Agency. She leads the state's 30x30 initiative—conserving 30% of California's land and waters by 2030.

the DOWNING FAMILY FOUNDATION

The 2023 State of Biodiversity Symposium and Nat Talk are made possible with support from the City of San Diego, The Downing Family Foundation, and media partner KPBS.

