

3rd Annual State of Biodiversity Symposium

February 5, 2020, 9 AM-3:30 PM

Conservation professionals and biodiversity lovers, unite!

The State of Biodiversity Symposium convenes conservationists, land managers, scientists, and the interested public to facilitate interdisciplinary conversations about our region's ecological condition in the wake of climate change.

The third annual event will feature a keynote presentation about habitat conservation planning (HCP), followed by four concurrent panel sessions:

- San Diego Canyon Conservation
- HCPs for Conservation and Discovery
- Biodiversity and Human Health
- Implications of Black-Market Biodiversity

Tickets are $65 for general admission, $50 for museum members, and $35 for students, and will go on sale in January at sdnat.org/stateofbiodiversity.

Don't miss the Nat Talk the following week, Tuesday, February 11 at 7 PM, where VP of Science and Conservation Dr. Michael Wall will share a high-level summary of the Symposium.
